American Column.

[Edited by The American Party].

The American Party PLATFORM.

The American Party of Box Elder County in convention assembled hereby re-affirm the platform adopted by the Americans in Salt Lake City at the State Convention assembled.

We are opposed to the consolidation of the Agricultural College of Utah with the University.

We believe that a man may worship his Maker as his conscience dictates, and that no State nor political body has the right to interfere with this great privilege; and we believe that man's first allegiance, politically, is to his country. We insist that all political power is inherent in the people; and all free governments are founded on their authority for their equal protection and benefit.

We insist that no person should be barred from prosecuting or defending any civil cause to which he is a party. We insist that trial by jury should remain inviolate. We believe that life, liberty and property should be secure in the hands of the state judiciary. We deny that any religious society has any authority to try men on the right of property, or to take from them this world's goods, or to put them in jeopardy, or to inflict any temporal punishment.

We insist that all men have the inherent and inalienable right to enjoy and defend their liberties. We insist that they have the right to follow their occupations without molestation and to possess and to protect their property, and we demand business, commercial and political freedom.

We favor the strict enforcement of all laws.

We demand that no religious test should be required as a qualification for any office or public trust. The schools should be free from sectarian control, and no public money or property should be applied to any religious worship, exercise or instruction, or for the support of any ecclesiastical establishment.

A majority of the Senate Committee in the Smoot case has found that the "hierarchy at the head of the Mormon Church has for years past formed a perfect union between the Mormon Church and the State of Utah, and that the Church through its head dominates the affairs of the State in things both great and small." We believe that every citizen is responsible for such a wrong unless he is doing his best to right the wrong.

We are unalterably and uncompromisingly opposed to a union of Church and State, nor shall any church, without our protest, dominate the State or interfere with its functions.

We declare ourselves unalterably opposed to any high ecclesiastical, of any domination whatsoever, seeking and asking for political preferment and benefits of civil office, or unduly interfering with politics while he is holding said high ecclesiastical or church position; and for the future and in order to promote tranquility, perfect equality and the best possible progress of the State, the American Party will use its endeavors to enforce and maintain this principle.

On page 2 of this issue will be found an account of the damage done by the recent wind storm in Ogden, Salt Lake and other places of the State. On page 5 are four columns of very interesting news matter under the following headlines: "North West Notes," "News Summary," "Utah State News" and "Mines and Mining." Don't fail to read these news columns as you get a summary of all the news that the big dailies contain besides many clippings from Utah and Idaho weekly papers.

We would be pleased to have our readers, and the public generally, send in such items of news as may come under their observation, such as births, deaths, marriages, goings and comings, etc. Many things transpire that we may overlook, hence we ask you to assist us in this matter that we may be able to publish ALL the news.

The Old Days.

Good old times are an illusion and a snare, and the man who sighs for them has little conception of what they were. Return to them, would you? Then rise on a cold morning and wash at the pump, put on a pair of rawhide boots that rival a tin can in stiffness, pull on a woolen shirt over your back, and sit down to a bare meal with your three-legged stool dancing around on a split-slab floor, eat corn pone and bacon for a steady diet and labor 14 hours out of 24. Go without a daily paper, a fly screen, a mosquito bar, a spring mattress, a kerosene lamp, gee-haw your oxen to market and sit on the floor of an ox cart as you wend your way to church or a frolic. Parch corn and peas for coffee and sassafras for tea, and see how you like it.—San Antonio Light.

The Immortal John.

"Now, Harold," asked an Evanston teacher, "can you tell me who signed the Declaration of Independence?"
"Yes, Miss Blankston, John Hancock and a lot of other men, but I don't remember their names."

A Substitute.

Little Helen, aged four, was in a frightful predicament. The nurse, carrying the cherished two-weeks-old baby up and down before the house, had paused to show the new infant to the bishop, who had asked to look at it. And then the tall, grave bishop, of whom Helen stood greatly in awe, had unexpectedly asked the little girl to give him the baby.
How in the world to refuse a request made by such an awe-inspiring person as the bishop the child did not know. But presently she wrinkled her small countenance shrewdly, moved closer to the petitioner, and said, indignantly: "I'll let you have the next."—Harper's Weekly.

Oh, Hubby!

Hubby—Nonsense! This little exhilarating shower won't prevent my playing golf; besides, I need the exercise.
Wifey—But you promised to take that begonia and the parrot cage down to mother's.
Hubby—What, in all this down-pour? Do you want to give me pneumonia, woman?—American Spectator.
